If due to circumstances beyond our control we are unable to achieve sufficient depth or coverage, we may need to caveat opinions and explain the impact of this and what will be done to retrieve the position in future.

Appendix B: Performance Indicators

| Summary           | The Kirkham Futures Regeneration Programme has been an ambitious, significant and challenging undertaking for the Council to deliver. The original project sponsor and lead left the programme with little or no handover to the then newly appointed Head of Regeneration and Programme Lead. This resulted in the creation of a new, small team to deliver the Programme, establish controls and processes and manage the Programme. There is a risk of overdependency on a key individual and a lack of overall resilience in the delivery of the Programme. |                            |                             |                    |  |  |  |  |  |
|                   | MIAA has completed a separate Projects Management Review, which highlighted the need for a ProjManagement Framework, to be used across Council Programmes and Projects to provide a formstandardised approach. This has not yet been completed due to resourcing pressures, although isomething which the Programme would benefit from. A structured framework would help to arobustness and rigour to the Programme and assist in the delivery of benefits within budget.  |                            |                             |                    |  |  |  |  |  |
|                   | Detailed reporting was required for the two key funding steams of Future High Streets aEngland. These reports have been largely used as a way of monitoring the progress of theas they require risk registers, Gantt charts and expenditure details. However, they are spestream of funding rather than the Programme as a whole.   |                            |                             |                    |  |  |  |  |  |

Appendix C: Key Areas from our Work and Actions to be Delivered

| Consequently, there was a lack of centralised detailed project plans, budget profiling with monitoring, recording of outcomes and lessons learned during the course of the Programme, along with the absence of any action plans arising from identified issues. |
| Controls were in place to record all expenditure incurred against the funding allocations on an individual project basis, which is reconciled to the ledgers and included in the two funding body returns.   |
